Statutory Registration – CORU

The Board for Medical Scientist registration was established in November 2016. Once the register opens, the role of the ACSLM as the designated authority for reviewing eligibility to practise as a medical scientist will cease. All ACSLM members will be required to register with CORU in order to practise as a Medical Scientist.

Membership Review Process

Membership applications are reviewed every month by a panel of assessors from the Medical Science profession. Recommendations for membership are passed to Council for approval, and this is usually held during the second week of the month.

If your documentation is complete on submission, and acceptable for membership, your application will be processed to completion within one week of the Council meeting in which your membership is approved.

If your documentation is incomplete, you will be emailed to the supplied email address, and your application will be held until all documentation is complete.

Appeals should be sent by email to mail@acslm.ie and will be reviewed by Council within two months of submission.

*Please note that two full years of membership is required, along with an approved post-graduate qualification, in order to obtain Fellowship of the ACSLM, which is required for Senior Medical Scientist posts.
